Our Neighbors Table

The 9th chapter in the Gospel of Luke holds many major turning points in the ministry of Jesus. Peter declares Jesus as the Messiah, Jesus predicts his death not once but twice, Jesus is Transfigured on the mountain and right at the end of chapter we find these words "Jesus set his face toward Jerusalem," or as some translations say "Jesus resolutely set out for Jerusalem."

The Gospel story has just begun, it is still early and yet Luke declares Jesus is moving already with a clear understanding of the end in mind.

During the season of Lent we will be exploring this theme of what it can take to follow a call from God. The Bible is filled the stories of those who succeeded and those who faltered or failed and each Sunday we will examine one of the many ways we can struggle to follow God's call.

Jesus set his face toward Jerusalem in clear response to the call he felt upon his life. We can all find many good reasons not to do or be what God asks of us. In the weeks of Lent we will take some time to consider our own response to God's call in our lives, and if you and I have the resolution to be all God calls us to be.

To God be the Glory,
Larry

Don't miss this study based on the book by retired Methodist pastor James W. Moore

"Give Up Something Bad for Lent"

In the Faithful Friends Sunday School class starting:
February 7th in Room 204 at 10:10 a.m.

PRECEPT BIBLE STUDY
EZRA/HAGGAI
REBUILDING THE TEMPLE

First, what is a Precept study?
"I love studying the bible this way."
"It's a great study."
"I thought I knew this story, but I really didn't."

These are some of the comments I have heard from students in the Precept bible study on Jonah. Twenty or so people have been opening their bibles, marking key words with colored pencils, looking up cross references, and learning more about who God is through studying Jonah.

I have been studying with Precept for 15 years and it is my favorite way to learn more about the bible. The studies encourage me to slow down in my reading and find significance in both familiar books as well as books that are far too easily overlooked. Precept studies have drawn me closer to God and I feel my faith has increased as I have come to know Him better through reading His Word.

Another study will be starting soon and I hope you will consider joining us. Beginning on February 21, we will be studying the books of Ezra and Haggai - two books I have never deeply studied. I would love to study them with you.

Angie Baughman, Precept Instructor

Ezra /Haqqai-Rebuilding the Temple

You can trust God. Experience what it's like when God places His hand on the lives of His people in Ezra and Haggai to prove He is the promise-keeping God.

MUMC

Saturday

Morning

HAVE YOU READ ANY OF THESE BOOKS?

The Saturday Morning Book Club did something new for our last meeting. Each member brought a book that he or she had read, and discussed what was interesting about it. Each book was rated on a scale from 1 - 5. Some chose old favorites and some chose to read books that were new to them. You might want to add some of these to your reading repertoire. It was a great discussion!

Still Alice

by Lisa Genova

Alice Howland is a psychology professor at Harvard and an expert in linguistics. She begins to experience cognitive difficulties that appear suddenly and progress rapidly. A diagnosis of early-onset Alzheimer's Disease is something that she and her husband and three grown children must learn to cope with.

Rogue Lawyer

by John Grisham

This book is different than Grisham's typical book because it contains 4 separate stories but one overall theme. It centers around Sebastian Rudd, the lawyer who fights against strong-arming policy and child slavery. The unique formatting made it interesting.

Station Eleven

by Emily St. John Mandel

Station Eleven portrays a pandemic that kills off most of the world's population. It's a page-turner that explores the aftermath through the lives of interesting characters, but also makes us appreciate what we have now and what is lost. How would it be to not have our civilization as we know it?

The Girl in the Spider's Web

by David Lagercrantz

This is a continuation of the Millennium Series books written by Stieg Larsson - do not read unless you have read the first 3 in the series. Although the book lacks the edginess of the others and has a very technical storyline, it is a continuation of the much loved mystery. Every one of the titles is a clue and some characters will come back into play.

The Pillars of the Earth

by Ken Follett

Set in the twelfth century, this book follows a master builder, Tom, throughout his difficult life. Loss and how it is handled is a large theme.

The World Until Yesterday

by Jared Diamond

From the author who is most known for Guns, Germs & Steel. This book compares traditional societies: how they raise children, how they treat the elderly, their religious beliefs, etc.

Simple Abundance

by Sarah Ban Breathnach

This book is a daily meditation. She writes about the five things you need to go through: gratitude, simplicity, order, harmony, and then joy. Although the author doesn't specifically mention God, spirituality plays a big role. Helps you to appreciate the small things of life.

The Great Gatsby

by F. Scott Fitzgerald

The language in the book is beautiful and the interconnections wonderful. Hard to explain why it is loved so much.

For a little added fun...those in attendance at January's meeting were: Emily Hargraves, Thelma Pierson, Vern Cline, Ken Cline, Lee Rendleman, Mary Ellen Brown, Susan Patterson and Mary Ann Hinchcliff. Now which one read which book? Guess!

January's meeting was fun. In fact all our meetings are fun!

You are invited to join us on February 20th at 10:15 in the Church Library as we discuss The Children Act by Ian McEwen.

Read ahead the book for March 19th: The President's Club: Inside the World's Most Exclusive Fraternity
By Nancy Gibbs and Michael Duffy

The Library Corner:*Good Things in Small Books

Small books can still be big enough to enlarge our thinking, impact our life, and inspire our hearts. For proof of that, look at some of the littlest books in our Church library. First, if you have not read it, look at Three Simple Rules: a Wesleyan Way of Living. It's simple, but it can lead to a radical change in perspective.

Next try a series of little books, each of which is organized around a significant theme, HOPE, ANGER, COMPASSION, and FORGIVENESS. Each book offers short articles by thoughtful writers, organized around the theme of the book.

Check out the library table this month for these books and others that are the Church Library's "small treasures."

MEALS-ON-WHEELS

Meals-on-Wheels is a worthwhile and needed ministry in our community that our church is very much involved in.

Our church is responsible for the delivery of meals the third week of every month.

The meals are prepared in Carbondale by the Senior Center. Then they are packed in carryout containers, and delivered to the Senior Citizen Center here in Murphysboro. The volunteers are to pick the meals up about 10:30. There are two routes, two people per route. It takes about 1 to 1-1/2 hours to deliver the meals to approximately 20 to 25 people.

If you wish to be on the substitute list to deliver meals, please call Joan Bastien at 684-6005.

The MUMC MOW teams are:

- Mondays: Kathy & Everett Blackwell and Sharon Jones & Nancy Fager
- Tuesdays: Paul & Debbie Chapman and Ralph & Joan Bastien
- Wednesdays: Candy & David Watt and Lela Sternberg & Sharon Graff
- Thursdays: Lynn Pierson & Thelma Pierson and Pete & Caroline Pederson
- Fridays: Jack & Sandy Herring and Bill Pierson & Rick Pierson

Thanks to all who deliver – you do a great job!

United Methodist Men

2015 Annual Report

The United Methodist Men (UMM) is the official organization for men at the MUMC. We meet every second Saturday of the month at 7:30 a.m. Yearly dues are $10. Volunteer breakfast “chefs” provide an assortment of delicious breakfasts. Our elected officers are Jay Graff, President; Rob Williams, Treasurer; and Perry Patterson, Secretary. The following are some of the activities we participated in 2015.

- ◆ In January, we met at the corporate complex of Bigham Farms. Allen Bigham graciously opened up the complex for the monthly meeting followed by a tour. Nineteen men attended. The main building includes office space, recreational area, apartment, kitchen, banquet/meeting area and a large storage area. He explained the operation of the grain storage bins which have approximately 1.7 million bushels of capacity.
- ◆ Several men have provided a devotional during the year. The invitation is always out there for volunteers to either give a devotional or to present a special interest/hobby to the group.
- ◆ Forty-four of the Murphysboro football team attended the “Feed the Team” meal on September 25th. Wilma Westerfield took the lead in preparation of a delicious mostaccioli meal. She had help from Sharon Graff, Lila Sternberg, and Joan Bastien.
- ◆ The 5th Annual Apple Pancake breakfast was held in September. Many men including the Hospitality Committee helped with decorating and serving. One-half of the profits has gone to the youth group for their Belize mission trip and the other portion, some $860, will be reserved for other “church missions” which to date are unnamed.
- ◆ Several UMM were the “head” waiters for the annual MUMC Women’s program. We prepare a meal and serve the SIU students at the Wesley Foundation every year.
- ◆ The annual Men’s Banquet was held on December 6th. Thirty-one attended the banquet. After a fine introduction by Rick Pierson, Mike Rude gave an interesting overview of his coaching philosophy and career interspersed with a number of humorous coaching experiences. Sandy Herring, Sharon Graff, Joan Bastien, and Lynn Pierson assisted with serving and cleanup. Much thanks to them! A variety of desserts were also provided by the women’s group. $310 was collected from ticket sales.
- ◆ Hold annual graduates breakfast for all graduates, elementary school through college.
- ◆ A survey has been circulated asking for program ideas and activities. Results of the survey will be used to decide our direction in the coming year and beyond.
